A Discovery . . .

Meet Your Greatness, Mike Fearn Author

Educational Title – Who Are You and Why Are You ? Attitude Accelerator's series of 34 study guides

It is about becoming aware of the inner working of your own attitude of beliefs.

A person's beliefs is not a good or bad thing.

But the fact is most people literally live only within their own attitude of beliefs and do not know this. Because of this well over 90% of people stay limited in their creative process which holds them back personally and professionally.

When a person learns where they have been living, it is then that they want to learn how to step out of their present world into possibilities that have always been there for them. This is when you and your association benefits personally and professionally.

This is well stated in this original quote :

When it comes to a change in life habits over 90% cannot accomplish change. The gap to change is simple, but for most it is as big as the Grand Canyon. Filling that gap requires moving to being totally aware of your attitude of beliefs.

The value is - both you as a person and your association will know how to fill that gap to change.

Mike Fearn will personally lead this program by providing the awareness then shows the path to change.
